

Medical Devices

Outstanding language skills are only half the story when it comes to translating for clients from a specialist industry: that's because technical knowledge of the sector is equally crucial.

At The Translation People, we have carefully handpicked translators with experience of working with clients in the medical devices industry, precisely so that we can deliver the level of perfection those clients demand.

Our expertise in the medical devices industry includes:

- product catalogues
- user guides
- press releases
- clinical trials
- promotional literature
- software

We translate and typeset all world languages from Albanian to Arabic; Czech to Chinese; French to Farsi; Greek to Gujarati and Turkish to Thai through a network of tried and tested language professionals which stretches all the way around the world.

Whatever the format of your original material, our production specialists adapt your existing artwork so that your foreign language version looks as impressive as the original.

We work in an extensive range of software on both Mac and PC in European, Middle Eastern, South Asian and Far Eastern alphabets and scripts.

About Us

Any translation company worth its salt will tell you that it provides high quality translations carried out by native speakers, that it works with the latest technology and that it treats your material as confidential. We're no different. But we do believe that the calibre of our people gives us the edge over our competition.

As one of our clients, you'll have a direct line to an experienced account manager who will be your single point of contact. They'll identify your requirements, select and coordinate the appropriate resource team and ensure your project is delivered in the appropriate format, on time and on budget.
